NEXT STEP IN ELECTRONIC TICKETING SYSTEM

30 October 2008

NSW Minister for Transport David Campbell today released details of respondents that have expressed interest in the new electronic ticketing system.

Mr Campbell said Public Transport Ticketing Corporation had issued Expression of Interest documentation for the system in August and 15 submissions were received from domestic and international entities.

"In accordance with government procurement guidelines, the names and addresses of these entities must be released," Mr Campbell said.

Public Transport Ticketing Corporation has received responses to the Government's Expression of Interest documentation from:

ACS Transport Solutions Inc - United States	Scheidt & Bachmann GmbH - Germany
Citigroup Consortium - Australia	Shanghai Huateng Software Systems Consortium - China
D & R Technology Consortium – Australia	Snapper Consortium - New Zealand
e-Pay Australia – Australia	Sony Corporation - Japan
Glide Consortium - Australia	Telvent Australia - Australia
Hampstead Consulting – Australia	Wave Team - Australia
Indra Sistemas, S.A. Consortium - Spain	Zheng Guang Australia Consortium - Australia
Pearl Consortium - Australia

Mr Campbell said these responses would now be evaluated and Public Transport Ticketing Corporation will prepare a list of qualified entities for the next stage of the procurement process – the 'Request for Proposal'.

The new system will operate on the CityRail network, metropolitan and outer-metropolitan public and private bus services and Sydney Ferries.

Names and addresses of the respondents and information about the new electronic ticketing system procurement process is available at www.pttc.nsw.gov.au
